

Hope Star

O Justice, Deliver Thy Herald From False Report!

Published every week-day afternoon by Star Publishing Co., Inc.
(C. E. Palmer & Alex. H. Washburn), at The Star building, 212-214 South
Walnut street, Hope, Arkansas.

C. E. PALMER, President
ALEX. H. WASHBURN, Editor and Publisher

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Hope, Arkansas
Under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Definition: "The newspaper is an institution developed by modern civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, through widely circulated advertisements, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide."—Col. R. McCormick.

Subscription Rate (Always Payable in Advance): By city carrier, per week 10c; six months $2.75; one year $5.00. By mail, in Hempstead, Nevada, Howard, Miller and Lafayette counties, $3.50 per year; elsewhere $5.00.

Member of The Associated Press: The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

National Advertising Representatives: Arkansas Dailies, Inc., Memphis Tenn., Sterick Bldg., New York City, Graybar Bldg., Chicago, Ill., 75 E. Wacker Drive; Detroit, Mich., 7338 Woodward Ave.; St. Louis, Mo., Star Bldg.

Charges on Tributes, Etc. Charges will be made for all tributes, cards at Thanksgiving, resolutions or memorials, concerning the departed. Commercial newspapers hold this policy in the news columns to protect their readers from a deluge of space-taking memorials. The Star disclaims responsibility for the safe-keeping or return of any unsolicited manuscripts.

YOUR HEALTH

Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

You Cut Down Weight By Reducing Calories

Sitting quietly and in your chair doing nothing, you use up about 100 calories an hour. This is about the amount of energy that you get from an ounce of sugar or starch or less than half an ounce of fat.

The moment you begin work, you use up more energy, but comparatively not so much more, so that it does not require a great deal of food to cause an excess in body weight.

We get our calories from food. A cup of clear, hot coffee will furnish through its high temperature about 10 calories to the body. The addition of two tablespoons of thick cream and one lump of sugar will raise the value of that cup of coffee to about 150 calories.

For this reason iced coffee, which is frequently drunk in larger quantities and with more cream and sugar, is likely to be more heating and fattening than plain, hot coffee.

Most everybody now knows that greens constitute a good reducing food chiefly because they provide bulk and food value without many calories.

A large serving of lettuce with a little vinegar and with grated cheese to the amount of about a one-inch cube, will not exceed 100 calories. The moment oil is put on this lettuce the caloric value of the salad leaps tremendously.

The way to reduce is to find out through study how many calories you spend a day and then to eat 500 calories a day less than you spend. This will reduce your weight about one pound a week.

If you eat 500 calories a day more than you spend, your weight will gain one pound a week.

If you find that your weight is not being reduced following the reduction of calories, you might take off a few more calories, but the elimination of the foods should be from the sugars and luxury foods and not from milk, fruit and fresh vegetables which are important for mineral and vitamin values.

As we get older our body weight tends to decrease. At the same time actions that go on in our bodies become slower and the amount of energy used up becomes less. For this reason older people require much less food than the young.

Eighteen hundred calories a day should cover the energy requirements of most of 70, and 1600 a day the energy requirements of men of 60. This is about the same energy requirement that is needed by a child around six years of age.

Children need more calories in proportion to their body weight, because they require food not only for the energy needs of the body but also for growth.

A BOOK A DAY

By BRUCE CATTON

A Trip to the Place of Eternal Darkness—Dr. Beebe Tells of Descent to Abyssal Ocean Depths

William Beebe tells about his trip to the ocean depths in a new book, "Half Mile Down," and he writes as a man might write who had visited the mountains on the other side of the moon.

For this amazing descent in a hollow steel ball to the black depths of the sea has been, clearly, a window to another life, a glimpse at marvels such as no man can look upon without being forever changed.

Gazing down, says Dr. Beebe, the spectrum is progressively drained of its colors. Presently all the sea is a rich, luminous blue—a miracle of warm color, seemingly brighter than sunlight, flawless in its clarity, unforgettable in its beauty.

Then, as the sphere drops on down, the blue deepens and darkens. At 2000 feet the last trace of light is gone. Then comes blackness—a blackness more profound and impenetrable than anything dreamed of in the upper world. Never before, he says, had he realized what the word "black" really meant.

But this blackness is inhabited. The old belief that the abyssal depths were almost lifeless is completely untrue. The blackness is speckled with a myriad tiny lights as gaudy fish, each lit up like an ocean liner, swim by; and now and then the vague, unlighted outlines of some unidentified sea monster is glimpsed in the distance.

There is not space here to relate a tenth of the marvels Dr. Beebe describes. Let it suffice to say that his book is an incredibly interesting thing, filled with beauty and wonder.

Published by Harcourt, Brace & Co., it sells for $5.

YOUR CHILDREN

By Olive Roberts Barton

Great Expectations Should Be Curbed to Save Children From Disappointment

"Yes, dear, Santa will bring you a great big doll."

"As high as me?"

"Oh, well—maybe. But a great big one anyway."

"And a trunk and a buggy and a bed and bureau and a house—"

"Hold on, there, young lady. Remember Santa's sack can't hold everything. But I'm sure he'll bring you a doll and a bed, anyway, and lots of clothes for your new child."

"I want a million dresses for her and shoes and stockings and hats. And I want a little piano and a kitchen and a bathtub."

Mary was improvising. She shifted as the spirit moved her. But she had some sort of an idea that the house on Christmas morning would look like the toy shops she had visited.

Anyway she hurried over to Patty's house to tell Patty she was to get just about everything there was for little girls to play with.

Selfish Required

Patty had and always had had about ten times too many toys for any one child. What was there left for Christmas? Merely repeats, as her mother put it. There were no gaps left to fill.

This was the problem Mary's mother worried about. She knew that the doll would have to be a very modest one and that she herself would have to stay up nights to make an extra dress out of gay scraps. If there was to be a little bed, it meant tramping until she dropped to save the last nickel.

"But it doesn't hurt anything," she thought, "to give Mary a few happy days with her little dreams. Besides, I can't have her rushing over to Patty's and telling them that I said she can't have much. Or have her feel that Santa Claus is neglecting her and dumping all the wonderful things at Patty's door."

"When she gets her presents on Christmas she will be so happy she'll forget in her excitement over the new things."

Fancy Needs Control

It is a problem that disturbs many a mother just now.

However, there is one comfort. When children are at the "believing" age, generally they are still young enough not to make too many comparisons.

One thing a mother might do to make things easier is to stop this exaggerated figuring early. Not to discourage or make children unhappy, but to control too many flights into the impossible. To concentrate attention on the possible is best.

Discreet use of cosmetics should be the first rule in the mature woman's beauty lexicon. Young skins can stand quite a lot of artificial color and still appear smooth and natural. Later in life however, the skin simply looks artificial—often rough and coarse—when too much rouge, powder and lipstick are used.

Since your skin has a tendency to become dry as the years advance, a good foundation lotion is a necessity. Always apply it before you start to blend on cream rouge.

The shade of rouge depends, of course, on your own coloring, but, generally speaking, you'll find pale, rather pinkish tones to be most flattering, particularly if your hair is white or even tinged with gray. Lipstick should match.

Remember rouge is supposed to enhance—not change—your natural coloring. Put it on where color shows in your cheeks after you've been exercising. Keep it well up on the cheek bones to prevent a dragged-down appearance and to form a flattering frame for the eyes.

A woman over forty seldom should use eye makeup. It may look tempting in the jar, but on your skin, it will prove to be a disappointment. Leave it for younger girls and trust that the understanding sparkle in your eyes (accumulated over a period of years) will be far more attractive than a smear of color on your lids.

Your powder must match your skin and should be of a very light texture. Apply it sparingly, being careful not to leave an excess across the lines around mouth and eyes. As a final step, put on a thin coat of lipstick.

Next: What the older woman should do about her hair.

By Alicia Hart

Mature Beauty Need Not Be Gaudy

Discreet use of cosmetics should be the first rule in the mature woman's beauty lexicon. Young skins can stand quite a lot of artificial color and still appear smooth and natural. Later in life however, the skin simply looks artificial—often rough and coarse—when too much rouge, powder and lipstick are used.

Since your skin has a tendency to become dry as the years advance, a good foundation lotion is a necessity. Always apply it before you start to blend on cream rouge.

The shade of rouge depends, of course, on your own coloring, but, generally speaking, you'll find pale, rather pinkish tones to be most flattering, particularly if your hair is white or even tinged with gray. Lipstick should match.

Remember rouge is supposed to enhance—not change—your natural coloring. Put it on where color shows in your cheeks after you've been exercising. Keep it well up on the cheek bones to prevent a dragged-down appearance and to form a flattering frame for the eyes.

A woman over forty seldom should use eye makeup. It may look tempting in the jar, but on your skin, it will prove to be a disappointment. Leave it for younger girls and trust that the understanding sparkle in your eyes (accumulated over a period of years) will be far more attractive than a smear of color on your lids.

Your powder must match your skin and should be of a very light texture. Apply it sparingly, being careful not to leave an excess across the lines around mouth and eyes. As a final step, put on a thin coat of lipstick.

Next: What the older woman should do about her hair.

By Alicia Hart

Mature Beauty Need Not Be Gaudy

Discreet use of cosmetics should be the first rule in the mature woman's beauty lexicon. Young skins can stand quite a lot of artificial color and still appear smooth and natural. Later in life however, the skin simply looks artificial—often rough and coarse—when too much rouge, powder and lipstick are used.

Since your skin has a tendency to become dry as the years advance, a good foundation lotion is a necessity. Always apply it before you start to blend on cream rouge.

The shade of rouge depends, of course, on your own coloring, but, generally speaking, you'll find pale, rather pinkish tones to be most flattering, particularly if your hair is white or even tinged with gray. Lipstick should match.

Remember rouge is supposed to enhance—not change—your natural coloring. Put it on where color shows in your cheeks after you've been exercising. Keep it well up on the cheek bones to prevent a dragged-down appearance and to form a flattering frame for the eyes.

A woman over forty seldom should use eye makeup. It may look tempting in the jar, but on your skin, it will prove to be a disappointment. Leave it for younger girls and trust that the understanding sparkle in your eyes (accumulated over a period of years) will be far more attractive than a smear of color on your lids.

Your powder must match your skin and should be of a very light texture. Apply it sparingly, being careful not to leave an excess across the lines around mouth and eyes. As a final step, put on a thin coat of lipstick.

Next: What the older woman should do about her hair.

By Alicia Hart

Mature Beauty Need Not Be Gaudy

Discreet use of cosmetics should be the first rule in the mature woman's beauty lexicon. Young skins can stand quite a lot of artificial color and still appear smooth and natural. Later in life however, the skin simply looks artificial—often rough and coarse—when too much rouge, powder and lipstick are used.

Since your skin has a tendency to become dry as the years advance, a good foundation lotion is a necessity. Always apply it before you start to blend on cream rouge.

The shade of rouge depends, of course, on your own coloring, but, generally speaking, you'll find pale, rather pinkish tones to be most flattering, particularly if your hair is white or even tinged with gray. Lipstick should match.

Remember rouge is supposed to enhance—not change—your natural coloring. Put it on where color shows in your cheeks after you've been exercising. Keep it well up on the cheek bones to prevent a dragged-down appearance and to form a flattering frame for the eyes.

A woman over forty seldom should use eye makeup. It may look tempting in the jar, but on your skin, it will prove to be a disappointment. Leave it for younger girls and trust that the understanding sparkle in your eyes (accumulated over a period of years) will be far more attractive than a smear of color on your lids.

Your powder must match your skin and should be of a very light texture. Apply it sparingly, being careful not to leave an excess across the lines around mouth and eyes. As a final step, put on a thin coat of lipstick.

Next: What the older woman should do about her hair.

By Alicia Hart

Mature Beauty Need Not Be Gaudy

Discreet use of cosmetics should be the first rule in the mature woman's beauty lexicon. Young skins can stand quite a lot of artificial color and still appear smooth and natural. Later in life however, the skin simply looks artificial—often rough and coarse—when too much rouge, powder and lipstick are used.

Since your skin has a tendency to become dry as the years advance, a good foundation lotion is a necessity. Always apply it before you start to blend on cream rouge.

The shade of rouge depends, of course, on your own coloring, but, generally speaking, you'll find pale, rather pinkish tones to be most flattering, particularly if your hair is white or even tinged with gray. Lipstick should match.

Remember rouge is supposed to enhance—not change—your natural coloring. Put it on where color shows in your cheeks after you've been exercising. Keep it well up on the cheek bones to prevent a dragged-down appearance and to form a flattering frame for the eyes.

A woman over forty seldom should use eye makeup. It may look tempting in the jar, but on your skin, it will prove to be a disappointment. Leave it for younger girls and trust that the understanding sparkle in your eyes (accumulated over a period of years) will be far more attractive than a smear of color on your lids.

Letters to Santa Claus

Hope, Arkansas.

Dear Santa Claus—I am a little girl 10 years old so please bring me a rubber doll and a little red rocking chair and plenty of candy, fruit and nuts, and don't forget mother and daddy.

Princess Jean Allen.

Hope, Arkansas.

Dear Santa—I am a little girl one year old, so please bring me a big doll, a set of dishes and a little dresser and don't forget my fruits, nuts and candy. Santa remember all the other little folks.

Pansy Lee Bavis

Hope, Arkansas.

Dearest Santa Claus—I am a very small boy. I want you to bring me a scooter, a little red wagon, a monkey climbing a strong, a French horn, a rubber doll where it won't break. I guess that will be all for this year. Don't forget to bring some fruits and firecrackers.

Robert Calhoun.

Patmos, Arkansas.

Dearest Santa Claus—I am a little boy and very good. I want you to bring me a stopper gun, a red wagon, a monkey climbing a strong, a French horn, a rubber doll where it won't break. I guess that will be all for this year. Don't forget to bring some fruits and firecrackers.

Verdo Fowell.

Patmos, Arkansas.

Dear Santa Claus—I have been a very good little girl this year I bring and I want you to bring me a doll that will say mama and papa, a doll buggy, a set of dishes. Well I guess that will be all for this year. Santa, Oh! I forgot, bring me lots of nuts and candy and all kinds of kind.

Helen Turnage.

Washington, Ark.

Dear Santa—I am a little boy eight years of age. I am in the fourth grade my teacher's name is Mrs. Cora Abbott. I want you to please bring me a bicycle, sparklers, firecrackers, also fruits, candy and all kinds of nuts.

Thomas Franklin Hicks.

Fulton, Arkansas.

Dear Santa—I am a little boy nine years of age. I want you to please bring me a BB gun, a chu-chu train, all kinds of fruits and nuts and a sack of all-day suckers.

Wade Gilbert.

Fulton, Arkansas.

Dear Santa Claus—I am a little boy seven years old. Daddy says I am a good little boy, so please bring me a little wagon, a toy pistol, firecrackers, sparklers, all kinds of fruits and nuts. Don't forget my little friend McCoy Edwards, bring her a sack of all-day suckers.

Thomas Martin.

Fulton, Ark.

I am a little girl three years of age. I want you to please bring me a doll, doll buggy, a baby rattle, all kinds of fruits, nuts and candy.

Ruby Evans.

Patmos, Arkansas.

Dear Santa—I am a little girl 11 years old. I want you to bring me a finger nail set, and some polish, and a pair of gloves and lots of fruit, candy and nuts of all kinds.

Marjory Formby

Patmos, Ark.

Dear Santa—I am a little boy three years old. I do not go to school. I want you to bring me a little knife and French harp, some apples, oranges bananas and nuts of all kinds.

Walker Formby.

Patmos, Arkansas.

Dear Santa Claus—I am a little boy five years old. I have blue eyes and white hair. I have been a good little boy, and I want you to bring me a comb, a pistol, a truck, a pair of gloves, a big ball, fruit, nuts and candy. Also some firecrackers.

Winfred Boyce.

Patmos, Arkansas.

Dear Santa—I am a little girl 12 years old. I go to school and like my teacher fine. I want you to bring me a pair of skates, a pair of pajamas, a pair of shoes, a doll bed, fruit, nuts, and candy. Santa I have been a good little girl and I hope a have not asked for too much.

Millie Mae Boyce.

McCaskill, Ark.

Dear Santa Claus—I am a good little boy. I will be 5 years old Saturday. I want you to bring me a blue truck, a cowboy suit, a football. I will have my tree ready for you, so please come to see me.

Kenneth Harris.

Hope, Arkansas.

Dear Santa Claus—I am a little girl 5 years old and have been going to school every day. I want you to bring me a doll with real curls, a rain coat, a set of green glass dishes, and a ring. Lots of fruits, nuts and candy. Don't forget my mother, daddy, sister and brother, also my teacher, Miss Green.

Doris Marie Urry.

ter, particularly if your hair is white or even tinged with gray. Lipstick should match.

Remember rouge is supposed to enhance—not change—your natural coloring. Put it on where color shows in your cheeks after you've been exercising. Keep it well up on the cheek bones to prevent a dragged-down appearance and to form a flattering frame for the eyes.

A woman over forty seldom should use eye makeup. It may look tempting in the jar, but on your skin, it will prove to be a disappointment. Leave it for younger girls and trust that the understanding sparkle in your eyes (accumulated over a period of years) will be far more attractive than a smear of color on your lids.

Your powder must match your skin and should be of a very light texture. Apply it sparingly, being careful not to leave an excess across the lines around mouth and eyes. As a final step, put on a thin coat of lipstick.

Next: What the older woman should do about her hair.

By Alicia Hart

Mature Beauty Need Not Be Gaudy

Discreet use of cosmetics should be the first rule in the mature woman's beauty lexicon. Young skins can stand quite a lot of artificial color and still appear smooth and natural. Later in life however, the skin simply looks artificial—often rough and coarse—when too much rouge, powder and lipstick are used.

Since your skin has a tendency to become dry as the years advance, a good foundation lotion is a necessity. Always apply it before you start to blend on cream rouge.

The shade of rouge depends, of course, on your own coloring, but, generally speaking, you'll find pale, rather pinkish tones to be most flattering, particularly if your hair is white or even tinged with gray. Lipstick should match.

Remember rouge is supposed to enhance—not change—your natural coloring. Put it on where color shows in your cheeks after you've been exercising. Keep it well up on the cheek bones to prevent a dragged-down appearance and to form a flattering frame for the eyes.

A woman over forty seldom should use eye makeup. It may look tempting in the jar, but on your skin, it will prove to be a disappointment. Leave it for younger girls and trust that the understanding sparkle in your eyes (accumulated over a period of years) will be far more attractive than a smear of color on your lids.

Your powder must match your skin and should be of a very light texture. Apply it sparingly, being careful not to leave an excess across the lines around mouth and eyes. As a final step, put on a thin coat of lipstick.

Next: What the older woman should do about her hair.

By Alicia Hart

Mature Beauty Need Not Be Gaudy

Discreet use of cosmetics should be the first rule in the mature woman's beauty lexicon. Young skins can stand quite a lot of artificial color and still appear smooth and natural. Later in life however, the skin simply looks artificial—often rough and coarse—when too much rouge, powder and lipstick are used.

Since your skin has a tendency to become dry as the years advance, a good foundation lotion is a necessity. Always apply it before you start to blend on cream rouge.

The shade of rouge depends, of course, on your own coloring, but, generally speaking, you'll find pale, rather pinkish tones to be most flattering, particularly if your hair is white or even tinged with gray. Lipstick should match.

Remember rouge is supposed to enhance—not change—your natural coloring. Put it on where color shows in your cheeks after you've been exercising. Keep it well up on the cheek bones to prevent a dragged-down appearance and to form a flattering frame for the eyes.

A woman over forty seldom should use eye makeup. It may look tempting in the jar, but on your skin, it will prove to be a disappointment. Leave it for younger girls and trust that the understanding sparkle in your eyes (accumulated over a period of years) will be far more attractive than a smear of color on your lids.

Your powder must match your skin and should be of a very light texture. Apply it sparingly, being careful not to leave an excess across the lines around mouth and eyes. As a final step, put on a thin coat of lipstick.

Next: What the older woman should do about her hair.

By Alicia Hart

Mature Beauty Need Not Be Gaudy

Discreet use of cosmetics should be the first rule in the mature woman's beauty lexicon. Young skins can stand quite a lot of artificial color and still appear smooth and natural. Later in life however, the skin simply looks artificial—often rough and coarse—when too much rouge, powder and lipstick are used.

Since your skin has a tendency to become dry as the years advance, a good foundation lotion is a necessity. Always apply it before you start to blend on cream rouge.

The shade of rouge depends, of course, on your own coloring, but, generally speaking, you'll find pale, rather pinkish tones to be most flattering, particularly if your hair is white or even tinged with gray. Lipstick should match.

Remember rouge is supposed to enhance—not change—your natural coloring. Put it on where color shows in your cheeks after you've been exercising. Keep it well up on the cheek bones to prevent a dragged-down appearance and to form a flattering frame for the eyes.

A woman over forty seldom should use eye makeup. It may look tempting in the jar, but on your skin, it will prove to be a disappointment. Leave it for younger girls and trust that the understanding sparkle in your eyes (accumulated over a period of years) will be far more attractive than a smear of color on your lids.

Your powder must match your skin and should be of a very light texture. Apply it sparingly, being careful not to leave an excess across the lines around mouth and eyes. As a final step, put on a thin coat of lipstick.

Next: What the older woman should do about her

Operatic Director

Horizontal

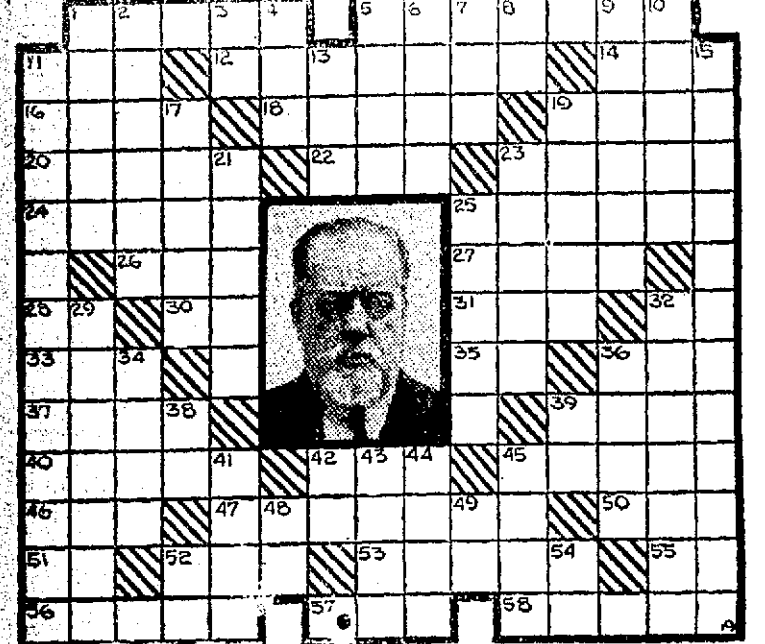

1. 5 Galleys
2. New York operatic manager.
3. Male.
4. Series of 3 notes (pt.).
5. To sin.
6. Otherwise.
7. Devoured.
8. Wise.
9. Baseball nines.
10. By.
11. Auctions.
12. Proportion.
13. Clots in blood vessels.
14. Age.
15. To encounter.
16. Italian river.
17. Spain.
18. Fence rail.
19. Upon.
20. Wood sorrel.
21. Measure of area.
22. Constellation.
23. Tardy.
24. Bed lath.
25. Presses.
26. Neither.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

1. Galleys
2. New York operatic manager.
3. Male.
4. Series of 3 notes (pt.).
5. To sin.
6. Otherwise.
7. Devoured.
8. Wise.
9. Baseball nines.
10. By.
11. Auctions.
12. Proportion.
13. Clots in blood vessels.
14. Age.
15. To encounter.
16. Italian river.
17. Spain.
18. Fence rail.
19. Upon.
20. Wood sorrel.
21. Measure of area.
22. Constellation.
23. Tardy.
24. Bed lath.
25. Presses.
26. Neither.

House since 1908.

13. Faucet.
15. He has tendered his job (pt.).
17. Turkish titles.
19. Weapon.
21. Cleansing agent.
23. To dash.
25. To shut in.
27. Wind instrument.
29. Speech.
31. On top of.
33. Pertaining to.
35. Half an oz.
37. Thorator.
39. To depart by boat.
41. To leave out.
43. Ceremony.
45. Serene.
47. Note in scale.
49. North America.
51. Sun god.
53. You.

Letters to Santa Claus

Dear Santa Claus—I am a little girl six years old. I want you to bring me a tooth brush, tooth paste, china doll, fruits and nuts. Don't forget mother and dad.
Jonnelle Corneliuss

Guernsey, Ark.
Dear Santa Claus—I am a good little girl and I am six years old. I want you to bring me a doll, tooth brush and candies, fruits and nuts.
Evelyn Gilbert

Guernsey, Ark.
Dear Santa—I am a little girl six years old, please bring me a doll, a set of dishes and some fruit and candy. Don't forget my little sister.
LeVern Gilbert

Dear Santa Claus—I am a little girl six years old. I am in the first grade. Santa I hope you will remember me. I would like to have a doll and buggy and a set of dishes, a cap and gloves to match. Remember my little sister and my teacher Miss Beaclair.
Bettie Sue Melver.

Dear Santa Claus—I am a little girl twelve years old. Please bring me, a pair of boot pants, shirt, Bible, and lots of candy and fireworks. Please don't forget to bring Edward a little train.
Frances Schooley.

Hope, Arkansas.
Dear Santa—I am a little girl eight years old and I am in the third grade. I go to school at Brookwood. Please bring me some water colors, a book of catfish and a dress that will be all I won't ask for too much. Don't forget my little sister patsy Ann.
Hattie Jo Burney.

Hope, Arkansas.
Dear Santa Claus—I am a little girl five years old. Please bring me a big doll and a little telephone and fruits, nuts, and candy. Don't forget the rest of the little folks.
Alma Lee Allen

Hope, Arkansas.
Dear Santa Claus—I am a little boy I go to school at Oak Grove. Please bring me a little dump truck and a cap pistol. Don't forget my school teacher, Miss Louise Coffield.
Chester Allen

Oak Grove, Ark.
Dear Santa—I am a 11 year old girl. Please bring me a wrist watch and a book to read as I like to read, and all kinds of fruit, nuts and candy and don't forget to bring some fireworks, and don't forget daddy and mother.
Dorothy Allen.

Hope, Arkansas.
Dear Santa Claus—I am a little boy 3 years old Christmas eve day. I have been good so please bring me a little wagon and a big ball and some candy, nuts and fireworks.
Leta Wise Allen.

Hope, Arkansas.
Dear Santa Claus—I want you to bring me all kinds of fireworks, fruits nuts and candy, also a big ball and anything else you would think a 6 year old boy would want and don't forget my school teacher, bring her something nice.
Lynn Allen.

Market Place

Sell It Find It Rent It Buy It in the Hope Star

Remember, the more you tell the quicker you sell.
1 time, 10c line, min. 30c

For consecutive insertions, minimum of 3 lines in one ad
3 times, 6c line, min. 50c
6 times, 5c line, min. 90c
20 times, 3 1/2c line min. $2.75
(Average 5 1/2 words to the line)

NOTE—Want ads will be accepted with the understanding that the advertiser is responsible for the accuracy of the information before the first publication

Phone 768

Screen doors—Hope Bldg. Mat. Co.

SPECIAL NOTICES

PERSONAL and business investigations made by thoroughly experienced company. All inquiries kept confidential. Southwest Detective Agency, 241 Donaghey Bldg., Little Rock, Ark. 1-26c

FOUND

FOUND—Tire and wheel. Owner may have same by identifying and paying for this add. Call at Hope Star.

FOR SALE

AUTO GLASS FOR ALL CARS
P. A. Lewis Motor Co. 11

Best Paint Sold—Hope Bldg. Mat. Co.

BARGAINS IN USED CARS.
P. A. Lewis Motor Co.

Wall Paper—Hope Bldg. Mat. Co.

USED PARTS FOR ALL CARS.
P. A. Lewis Motor Co.

FOR SALE—Nice fat hens, buy now for Christmas. Fifteen cents per pound delivered to your home. W. H. Gaines. 609 South Harvey. Phone 273-W

LOST

STRAYED OR STOLEN—One bay mare weight 850, white spot between shoulder and flank, hoop in rear leg. Reward. Edw. Jones. Enmet, Ark. Route One. 17-34p

TAKEN UP—One bay horse, weight 800 pounds, long mane and tail. A. Allen. Hope, Ark. Route 1. 17-34p

NOTICE

WARNING ORDER

IN THE HEMPSTEAD CHANCERY COURT
LAURA WASHINGTON Plaintiff
FRED WASHINGTON Defendant.
The defendant, Fred Washington, is hereby warned to appear in this court within thirty days and answer the complaint of the plaintiff herein.
Witness my hand and seal as clerk of said court on this 3rd day of December, 1934.
(SEAL)
Dec 3, 10, 17, 21.
DALE JONES Clerk.

WARNING ORDER

IN THE HEMPSTEAD CHANCERY COURT
MAMIE AUBREY Plaintiff
JIMMIE AUBREY Defendant.
The defendant, Jimmie Aubrey, is hereby warned to appear in this court within thirty days and answer the complaint of the plaintiff herein.
Witness my hand and seal as clerk of said court on this 3d day of December, 1934.
(SEAL)
Dec 3, 10, 17, 21.
DALE JONES Clerk.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

—AND, HERE, SNUFFY—
I WANT YOU TO TAKE THIS TREASURE HOME AND SERVE IT AT CHRISTMAS! —IT'S FROM MY PRIVATE CELLAR—A GREAT OLD BURGUNDY—COTE DE LARTEUX, 1900!—THIS FINE WINE WAS BOTTLED ESPECIALLY FOR ME, BY MY OLD FRIEND, THE MARQUIS DE MOREAU-FAYETTE!— THAT IS WHY THERE IS NO COMMERCIAL LABEL ON THE BOTTLE!

GOSH MAJOR, THANKS! I HAVEN'T TASTED GOOD WINE SINCE I WORKED IN A SHIPYARD!—CAUGHT A SPLASH OF IT WITH MY MOUTH, ONCE, WHEN A BOAT WAS LAUNCHED

HE MADE THAT SHEEP DIP TWO YEARS AGO! IT'LL CHOKE A TIN FUNNEL!

I TOOK A GULP OF IT, ONCE, —LIKE TURNING AN EGG BEATER IN YOUR MOUTH!

A QUART OF CHATEAU DE HOOPLE

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

MONA AND HER GANG HAD NO SUSPICION OF ANY CHANGE OF FEELING ON BILLY'S PART..... BUT, NO SOONER HAD THEY SAT DOWN TO BREAKFAST, THE FOLLOWING MORNING, THAN EVERYONE REALIZED THAT "SOMETHING WAS UP."

I WANT YOU ALL TO LISTEN CAREFULLY TO WHAT I'M GOING TO SAY! IN MY OPINION, THE LOWEST, CHEAPEST, MOST DETESTABLE THING A PERSON CAN DO IS TO BETRAY A TRUST... TO DELIBERATELY DECEIVE SOMEONE WHO HAS SHOWN IMPLICIT FAITH.....

ALLEY OOP

ALLEY OOP CAUGHT DOTS BOBO AND HIS FOLLOWERS FLAT-FOOTED RESCUED THE FAIR OOLA, AND DISAPPEARED WITH HER INTO THE JUNGLE BEFORE THE RENEGADES COULD REALIZE WHAT IT WAS ALL ABOUT.

KEEP GOIN', OOLA—I LEFT OL' DINNY TIED TO A TREE A LITTLE WAY UP AHEAD!

WHY—DINNY'S GONE!

ARE YOU SURE THIS IS WHERE YOU LEFT HIM TIED?

WASH TUBBS

WHAT! MY SONS BEEN KIDNAPED IN KANDELABRA?

SEND AN ULTIMATUM! DEMAND PRINCE PHILBERT'S RETURN IN 10 DAYS, OR WE'LL BLOW THEIR DINKY COUNTRY OFF THE MAP!

GRAVE INTERNATIONAL CRISIS! EVERY KING, HECTOR, OF BULGRAVIA, IS ENRAGED, HOLDS KANDELABRA RESPONSIBLE FOR PRINCE'S SAFETY.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

THERE COMES NUMBER SIX UP THE GRADE, NOW, FRECKLES! BUT I'LL GET WE HAVEN'T ENOUGH GAS TO GET US TO THAT CROSSING!

KICK IT OUT OF GEAR, WE'LL COAST! BUT WHAT CAN WE DO WHEN WE GET THERE?

YOU'LL FIND OUT! LISTEN, WE'LL HAVE TO JUMP... I'M GONNA DIVE RIGHT UP THE TRACKS

OKAY! I'LL BE READY!!

THE NEWFANGLES (Mom'n Pop)

WHEN THE FIRE ALARM SOUNDED AND THE SIREN SCREECHED, RIGHT IN THE MIDDLE OF THE WEDDING CEREMONY, THE FIRE CHIEF KNEW BUT ONE DUTY

GANGWAY! CLEAR THE FIRE TRUCK! GANGWAY!

By AHERN

OUT OUR WAY

SAY, YOUNG LADY, THIS IS GOING TOO FAR! THROWING PARKING TICKETS IN MY LAP, WITH THE NONCHALANCE OF A GANG MOLL—AS THO I WERE NOTHING, TO BE PRACTICALLY ARRESTED, AN' AS THO WE WERE MILLIONAIRES

YEH—BUT IF THAT WAS ME, EVEN GOT BAWLED OUT BY A COP, AN' YOU HADDA PAY FER A 30-CENT WINDOW I BROKE—WHY, I'M ON TH' ROAD TO RUIN—TO TH' PENITENTIARY—A GANG LEADER!

YOU TRY DRIVING, SOMETIME! YOU'LL GET A WHOLE BOOK OF TICKETS, BEFORE YOU LEARN TO TURN A CORNER—AND, AS FOR THAT EGG, YOU'LL BE PAYING FOR HORSES, MILK WAGONS, AND STREET CAR STEPS, WHEN HE'S OLD ENOUGH TO DRIVE!

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY.

By WILLIAMS

Walking Papers!

A DOG—EVEN A MANGY, FILTHY, HALF-BREED ALLEY SCROOT WOULDN'T DO SUCH A THING! THERE'S NO NEED TO GO INTO DETAILS... I WON'T LOWER MYSELF! BESIDES, I'M QUITE SURE YOU ALL UNDERSTAND PERFECTLY WHAT I MEAN!

STRANGE TO SAY..... I'M NOT ANGRY... ONLY HURT, AND DISGUSTED..... WITH MYSELF AS MUCH AS YOU! NOW, GET OUT!... THE WHOLE BATCH OF YOU.... AND I HOPE I NEVER LAY EYES ON ANY OF YOU AGAIN, AS LONG AS I LIVE— DO YOU HEAR??

GET OUT! GET OUT!

By MARTIN

By HAMLIN

HOWAWOW! WHAT TH—? OH! ALLEY—WHAT'S THAT?

QUICK! UP IN TH' TREES, KID! IF WE'RE GONNA FIND OUT WHAT IT IS, I WANT A LOTTA SPACE BETWEEN US AN' IT, WHEN WE DO!

Poor Jada!

WAR CLOUDS GATHER OVER EUROPE! MOBILIZES ARMY ON KANDELABRAN BOAT

HEAVENS! WHAT CAN I DO?

By CRANE

By BLOSSER

WE'RE GONNA MAKE IT, WITHOUT A FOOT TO SPARE! JUMP!!

An Unplanned Wedding Trip!

CLANG! CLANG! CLANG! CLANG! CLANG! CLANG!

BEFORE THE CROWD COULD SAY ALOYSIUS RUBINOWITZ, THE FIRE CHIEF HAD NABBED THE FIRE TRUCK AND WAS ON HIS WAY, BRIDAL PARTY AND ALL!

By COWAN